SLOANE STEPHENS

The U.S. Open winner gives Us a peek into her self-care journey in South Africa

My HEALTHY Day

COMING UP SMILING

9:00 A.M. After waking up before dawn to catch animal sightings during a game drive at Londolozi, Stephens is ready for an energy boost. "By the time 9 A.M. rolls around, I feel like we've had a full day," she tells Us. "It's summer in the southern hemisphere, but the mornings are still chilly, so it's hot chocolate for me."

NO OFF DAYS

1:30 P.M. Stephens — who keeps in touch with her trainer to ensure she's making progress toward her recovery and preseason goals — also squeezes in exercise: "We packed light, so my workouts focus on easy cardio like jump rope, body-weight fitness like lunges and squats and restorative yoga, to keep loose with so much travel," she explains. "[But] it's not often that my workouts have a view like this!"

4. A PERFECT MATCH

4:00 P.M. Later, the athlete enjoys a romantic stroll with soccer player hubby Jozy Altidore to scope out wildlife. "With a constant demanding schedule, I always find the time to set aside to connect with my husband," Stephens shares. "We love the outdoors, so a simple walk is always a great reset to our days."

2. RELAX & REFLECT

11:00 A.M. Next up, it's time to hit the spa for an hour-long massage! "Even though I'm on vacation, I'm still focused on my off-season training and preparation for next year," the tennis pro, 29, explains. "So it's important to continue taking care of my body."

SCRUB CLUB

8:00 P.M. "Being on vacation gives me the time to indulge in a longer skincare routine and take my time with each step," Stephens tells Us. "Since I've been out in the sun and had lots of wind and dirt, I double-cleansed to make sure I really washed the day away."

Loves

"Their age difference isn't an issue at all. Elle loves how mature and intelligent Max is," an insider says of the pair (in L.A. on Dec. 15).

MAX & ELLE

Looking Ahead

➔ Wedding bells may soon be ringing for Elle Fanning and her beau of four years, Max Minghella. "Nobody would be surprised if Max proposes soon," an insider tells Us, adding that Fanning, 24 — who recently made her first red carpet appearance with Minghella, 37, in three years — would "love" for the actor to get down on one knee. "Elle and Max have been serious for a good while now," notes the insider, "and are in a better place than ever going into 2023."

JOEL & NICOLE

Funny Business

➔ There's no shortage of laughter in Nicole Richie and Joel Madden's 12-year marriage. "They work so well because they don't take themselves too seriously. They joke around with each other and love [witty] banter," a source tells Us, adding that the spark is very much alive between the fashion designer, 41, and the rocker, 43. "Joel still looks at Nicole like he did when they first met. They're a joy to be around."

Country Strong

Luke and Caroline Bryan have one of the most solid marriages in Nashville. "Caroline's super supportive of Luke; he's there when she needs him too," an insider tells Us of the singer, 46, and his wife, 42. "They're best friends, devoted parents and a very likable pair."

RAVEN & MIRANDA

Under the Radar

➔ Raven-Symoné and Miranda Pearman-Maday wouldn't change a thing about the quiet life they've built together. "They're a low-key couple that don't do many big nights out. Instead, they have a close-knit group of pals that come over for themed dinner parties and fun things like that," a source tells Us of the former View cohost, 37, and her wife of two years. Though they "haven't ruled out" kids in the future, "they're content right now being a family of two."

MEGHAN & HARRY

Royal Disaster

The Sussexes are lying low amid backlash from their Netflix doc

Their master plan has backfired. Prince Harry and Meghan Markle had high hopes that Netflix's Harry & Meghan would help repair their image, but a source tells Us that it's created even bigger problems for the pair. "There's this tornado of criticism that continues to engulf them," says the source, noting that it's gotten so bad that Harry, 38, and Meghan, 41, have been forced to hunker down in their Montecito, Calif., mansion until things cool off. "It makes no sense for Harry to go home to England at the moment, and it's not like he'd be welcomed with open arms," notes the source. "And they're both up to their ears with work obligations. So the cold reality is that they're trapped right now — albeit in their own personal paradise — putting out fires and trying to focus on the year ahead." With Harry's highly anticipated memoir, Spare, hitting shelves, "there's more [stress] to come," warns the source. "But until then, they're recharging their batteries while [figuring out how] to deal with all this."

Meghan and Harry bought their Montecito hideaway for a whopping $15 million in 2020.

"They really thought the documentary would allow people to see things from their perspectives," says a source of the couple.

"Pete worries about whether or not he'll be able to re-create that same magic with anyone else," says a source.

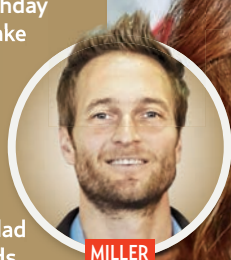

PETE DAVIDSON

Still Crushing on Kim

The one that got away? It's been more than four months since they called it quits, but Pete Davidson is still in love with Kim Kardashian. "He thinks about her all the time," a source tells Us, adding that even though the Saturday Night Live alum, 29, moved on with model Emily Ratajkowski and has recently been seen hanging out with his Bodies Bodies Bodies costar Chase Sui Wonders, "it's not that easy for Pete to just turn off his feelings for Kim. He's an emotional guy." Despite only dating Kardashian, 42, for nine months, the pair were "super serious and planning out their long-term future together before they reluctantly decided to go their separate ways," explains the source. "Kim was one in a million for Pete, no doubt about it."

Here Comes the Bride!

» Jennifer Garner has big plans for the new year. "She and John [Miller] are getting married," an insider tells Us of the pair, who quietly got engaged around Garner's 50th birthday this past April. "Jen wants to make it a big event for the whole family. It's going to be a wedding for the ages!" Miller couldn't be more excited to finally make the actress his wife. "He has run the gauntlet to show that he's husband material and stepdad material to Jen's three kids," adds the insider. "Luckily, he passed all their tests with flying colors."

A source previously told Us that Kim Kardashian is "worried for Kanye's mental health."

The Spiral Continues

» It's been a little over a month since Adidas launched an investigation into allegations of misconduct against Kanye West. According to a source, repercussions may be coming. "Adidas will file a lawsuit against Kanye soon; it's not a question of if. It's when," the source tells Us, explaining that the disgraced rapper — whose partnership with the company was terminated in October following his anti-Semitic comments — has cost Adidas "so much money, and they will be looking for reparations." It would be a blow to West, 45. "Kanye's finances are strained," warns the source, noting that West doesn't even have a home at the moment. "He's currently living at Nobu Malibu. He's also hanging around a totally different group of people than he was a few months ago. His friends are all deeply concerned."

EX-FACTOR

The Kardashians' former husbands continue to make waves

Emotional Roller Coaster

» For the last 15 years, the Kardashians have lived their lives in front of the camera. But Lamar Odom's new documentary, Lamar Odom: Sex, Drugs & Kardashians, put the entire clan on edge — especially the former NBA star's ex-wife, Khloé Kardashian, 38. "Khloé's been the most nervous, mostly because she's such an empath. She knows it will hurt her to hear about Lamar's experience from his side," an insider tells Us, insisting that even though the film explores the end of their marriage, Odom, 43, would never trash-talk Kardashian or her family. "Lamar still loves Khloé so much," notes the insider. "He's always remained respectful, and that [likely won't] change."

Kardashian filed for divorce from Odom in 2013 after four years of marriage.

News that Kody Brown's marriages to Meri, 51, and Janelle, 53, had come to an end — just one year after Christine, 50, fled the family — left Sister Wives fans stunned. But those who know the Browns say this moment has been years in the making. "It was just a matter of time before someone left," a source tells Us, adding that despite issues in the 53-year-old patriarch's other relationships, Robyn, 44, isn't going anywhere. "She's enjoying being the only wife left," notes the source, "even though she originally wanted to be part of a multiple wives arrangement." While the future of the TLC series seems to be up in the air, the source hints that it might not be over. "They could bring back Meri, Janelle and Christine and have them discuss their lives without Kody — or he could find a new wife," teases the source. "There are ways to keep Sister Wives alive."

One insider says "it's only a matter of time" before de Ramon and Pitt become exclusive.

Has Brad Pitt finally met his perfect match in Ines de Ramon? Insiders say he's fallen hard for the gorgeous jewelry designer

BY JAIME HARKIN

HEATING Up

It was a birthday to remember for Brad Pitt. On Dec. 17, the day before he turned 59, the actor was photographed arriving at a dinner party with new love interest Ines de Ramon. After getting out of his car, Pitt, wearing a striped gray button-down shirt and matching oversize pants, was spotted laughing alongside the brunette beauty, who wore a tan shearling coat and sparkling earrings for the special occasion.

According to multiple sources, Pitt is smitten with the jewelry designer, who is reported to be in her early 30s. The pair were first linked when they attended a Bono concert in mid-November, and the A-list actor later brought her as his plus-one to the L.A. afterparty for his new film, Babylon, on Dec. 15. “Brad is falling for Ines quickly,” shares one insider. “For the first time in ages, he sees the possibility of a serious, long-term relationship with someone.”

The insider says Pitt is even telling pals that de Ramon — who separated from The Vampire Diaries actor Paul Wesley in September after three years of marriage — could be “The One.” Adds the insider: “Brad has gone from seeing this as a casual fling to wanting to spend all his time with her.”

▶ HOW IT HAPPENED

The feelings are mutual. “Both Brad and Ines are confident this could lead to something very special,” says the insider, noting that the two have known each other for some time. “Ines is a member of Brad’s business team and also part of his friendship circle,” the insider shares. De Ramon is trying not to get too ahead of herself. “She’s going with the flow,” says the insider, “but it’s an exciting time for her, for sure.”

They hang out often, hitting art shows in L.A. and going on hikes together. They’ve also had a bunch of hot dates at Pitt’s home. “They like to chill at Brad’s house,” says the

A source says Pitt’s romance with de Ramon “is his most serious since Angelina.”

Pitt, with his Babylon costars, was seen getting cozy with de Ramon at the film's Dec. 15 afterparty.

Why Angelina Left the U.N.

On Dec. 16, Jolie released a statement saying she would no longer be working as a special envoy to the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR). "After 20 years working within the U.N.

system, I feel it is time for me to work differently, engaging directly with refugees and local organizations and supporting their advocacy for solutions," she said. According to a source, the actress was having some behind-the-scenes issues with the U.N. "There was a lack of transparency with the budget that Angelina was at odds with," says the source. "She raised so much money in her role and could never get any answers. That is why she left."

insider. "Brad's been cooking for her, and they'll just jam to music and watch movies."

PERFECT PAIRING?

She seems to be exactly what Pitt's been looking for. The Bullet Train actor has been linked to multiple women since his 2016 split from Angelina Jolie, with whom he shares Maddox, 21, Pax, 19, Zahara, 17, Shiloh, 16, and 14-year-old twins Knox and Vivienne. After whispers of a reunion with ex-wife Jennifer Aniston, Pitt was spotted with Search Party star Alia Shawkat and German model Nicole Poturalski. Most recently, he was hanging out with actress Monet Mazur and model Emily Ratajkowski. But no one has been able to steal his heart — until now. "Ines is a cool, smart and very likable woman," says the insider. "She's a great match for Brad."

EX FACTOR

There have been rumors Pitt caused de Ramon's sudden split from Wesley, but the insider insists she and the actor were done before she got involved with Pitt: “Nothing happened until Ines separated from Paul. That’s when she started socializing more and hit it off with Brad.” Still, the insider says Wesley is having a hard time watching de Ramon move on so quickly, “but he’s not going to kick up a fuss, as far as his friends can tell.”

It might be a different story with Jolie. While the first insider says she “doesn’t give Brad’s love life too much attention,” a second insider tells Us she can’t help but feel resentful. In a lawsuit filed by Jolie, 47, in October, she alleged Pitt physically assaulted her and their children aboard a private jet flight in 2016. (In court papers, Jolie claims Pitt “grabbed [her] by the head” and shook her. The filing also says Pitt choked one of their six children and struck another in the face. His lawyers denied the allegations.) “Angelina thought Brad would be shunned when everything came out,” explains the second insider. “She’s going to go scorched earth on him.”

NEW LEAF

Some of Pitt’s pals aren’t convinced he’s ready to settle down again. “This is just the latest in a very long line of liaisons Brad has had since his divorce with women who he’s introduced to by colleagues or friends in the art world,” says a third insider. “The pattern is always the same: They hang out at concerts and art shows, have some fun at his Los Feliz mansion and go away on mini-breaks. Then Brad gets bored and it fizzles out after a few months.”

Others say de Ramon has changed the tide. “Brad and Ines really enjoy each other’s company,” says the second insider. “He wasn’t expecting to find someone as extraordinary as she is. As for where it will lead, we’ll see how things blossom.”

US

1 SHE HAS A FAMOUS EX De Ramon and Wesley, 40, began dating in 2018 and wed in 2019. They announced their split in September. “The decision to separate is mutual and occurred five months ago,” a rep said on their behalf.

2 SHE’S A JEWELRY EXEC Prior to becoming the vice president of L.A.-based brand Anita Ko Jewelry, de Ramon worked for Christie’s and at luxury Swiss jeweler De Grisogono.

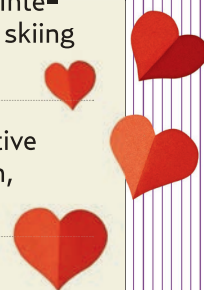

3 SHE’S A HEALTH COACH De Ramon became a certified nutrition health coach after attending the Institute for Integrative Nutrition. She’s also a fitness enthusiast, seen skiing and hiking in social media pics.

4 SHE SPEAKS FIVE LANGUAGES Oui, oui! The New Jersey native reportedly grew up in France and is proficient in French, German, English, Spanish and Italian.

5 SHE STUDIED IN SWITZERLAND De Ramon graduated from the University of Geneva in 2013 with a bachelor’s degree in business administration. She also went on to receive both the GIA Diamond Essentials and GIA Colored Stone Essentials credentials from the Gemological Institute of America.

JENNIFER LOPEZ

When it comes to wellness, the triple threat, 53, doesn't mess around: Her diet consists of whole, unprocessed foods (breakfast is a protein shake, lunch is a hearty kale salad and dinner is a lean meat with veggies and quinoa or sweet potatoes) and she hits the gym regularly. "Very rarely will I skip my workout," Lopez told Us. It shows!

Hollywood's
fittest stars reveal the diet and exercise regimens
that keep them
in tip-top shape

BY JAIME HARKIN

BODIES BY DESIGN

JESSICA BIEL

The 40-year-old Sinner actress is all about balance. For exercise, she alternates between yoga and circuit training, and while she sticks to healthy options like fish and fruits and vegetables from her home garden, she also leaves room for indulgences. "I like to eat clean," she shared, "[but] don't get me wrong, I like my cheat days — and I go big."

LUPITA NYONG'O

The Oscar winner, 39, trained rigorously for her turn in Black Panther: Wakanda Forever, doing intense underwater workouts with weights and loading up on protein, lean meats and fresh fruit and veggies. Her go-to snacks include cashews, hummus and berries, and her fave sips are pineapple juice and lemongrass tea.

RITA ORA

"I really enjoy working out," Ora, 32, tells Us. "My favorites are circuit-based workouts; I usually do those for an hour or two as many times a week as I can." A source says the stunning songstress eats mainly protein (like eggs, chicken and fish) and veggies and nixes sugar and bread: "That's made a huge difference."

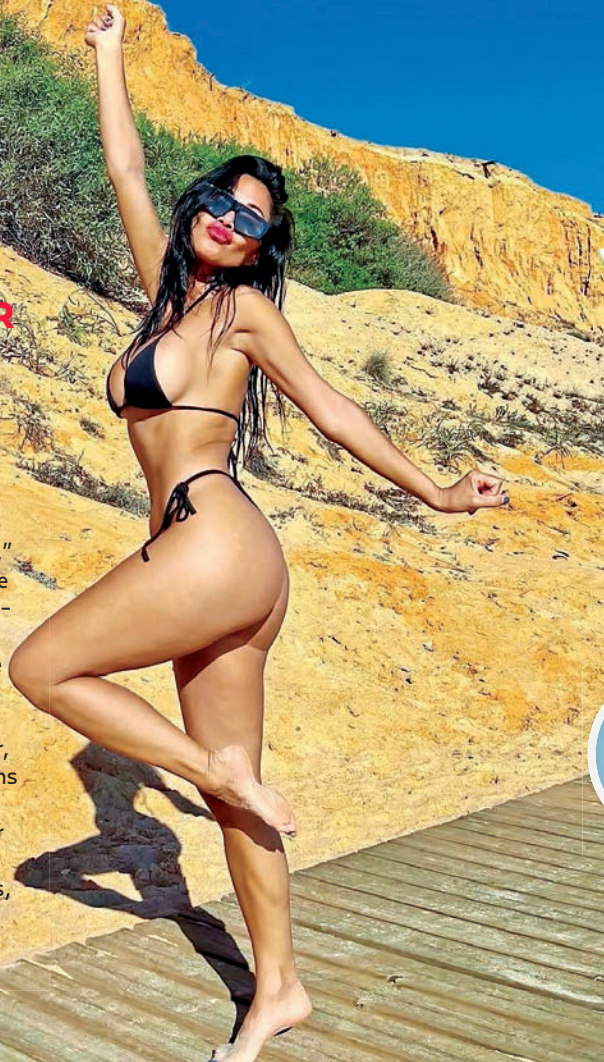

JULIANNE HOUGH

Healthy living is a lifestyle for the long-time professional dancer, whose Kinrgy workouts combine dance-based movements with breathwork and meditation. "Julianne is a beacon of fitness for her friends," says a source, noting that the 34-year-old, who made her Broadway debut in May, "tries to eat vegan most of the time — she is very conscious of what she puts in her body."

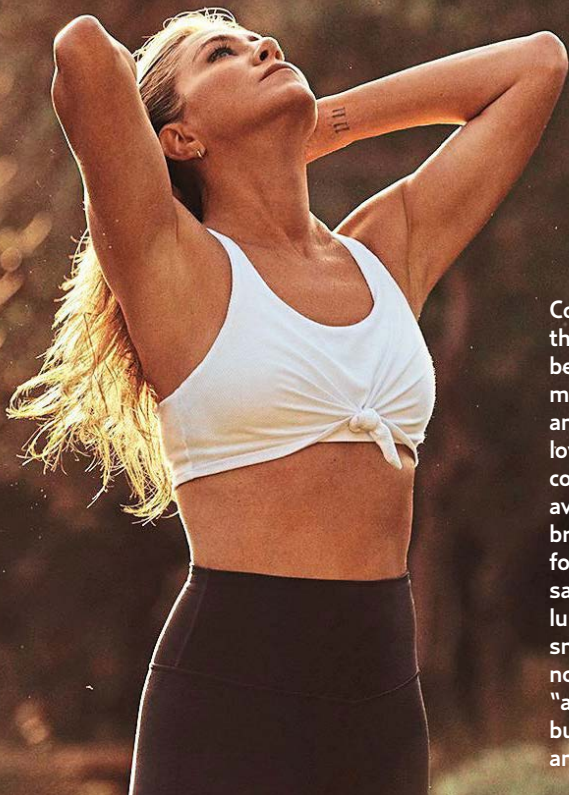

NICOLE SCHERZINGER

Scherzinger tells Us she would rather hit the gym hard than restrict her diet. "I love pizza and Mexican food, so working out most days allows me to live my life and eat the foods I love," the Masked Singer judge says. "I find that switching up between cardio, strength training, dance and Pilates really does it for me." As for what else she eats, the singer, 44, incorporates proteins like eggs, chicken and smoked salmon into her daily menu, as well as snacks like raw almonds, cherry tomatoes and snap peas.

JENNIFER ANISTON

Consistency is everything for Aniston. She's been doing yoga for more than three decades and revealed she follows a pretty basic diet, consisting of a shake or avocado with eggs for breakfast and "some form of vegetables or salad with protein" for lunch and dinner. As for snacks, the A-lister, 53, noted she'll usually have "an apple and almond butter or just an apple and some nuts."

What I Eat in a Day

KOURTNEY KARDASHIAN

BREAKFAST Avocado shake or vegan

LUNCH Zoodles and sourdough bread with vegan butter and pickles

SNACK Tangerines or Mindright bars

DINNER Vegan sushi or plant-based tacos

KYLIE JENNER

BREAKFAST Celery juice and granola with natural yogurt and berries

LUNCH Chinese chicken salad with greens, nuts, purple cabbage, black sesame seeds and herbs

SNACK Justin's Almond Butter packets and fruit

DINNER Lemon chicken with rice and veggies

MEGAN THEE STALLION

BREAKFAST Smoothie with almond milk,

bananas, greens and berries

LUNCH Seasoned seabass with veggies

SNACK Yogurt, granola and fruit parfait

DINNER Lightly breaded fish with a kale salad

SHAY MITCHELL

BREAKFAST Oatmeal with fruit

LUNCH Salad with a side of grains or pasta

SNACK Veggies and hummus and hard-boiled eggs with salt, pepper and chili oil

DINNER Fish with sautéed vegetables and gluten-free pasta

CIARA

"Fitness has always been an important part of my life," Ciara tells Us. "I do a lot of strength training before dance classes, and I love working on my abs." (Clearly!) The 37-year-old star also enjoys cooking healthy meals for her family. "She loves to make garlic kale chips, and sautéed spinach with roasted chicken is a major go-to," says an insider of the songstress, who also stays satisfied by snacking on plantain chips with guacamole.

JENNA DEWAN

Dewan is a fan of the 80/20 method. "I do 80 percent as healthy as possible — vegetarian and vegan, as healthy as I can," the 42-year-old actress and dancer told Us. "And then 20 percent I'm eating Mexican food if I want it. I've gotta be able to indulge and have a glass of wine and feel good!"

KATE HUDSON

The Fabletics cofounder steers clear of processed foods, gluten and dairy at home. "Kate keeps tons of fruit around the house to use as snacks throughout the day," shares a source of the actress, 43. Some of her favorite meals include oatmeal with almond butter and chia seeds for breakfast, a chopped salad for lunch and roasted chicken with nutmeg gravy for dinner. Hudson also stays active, hiking, swimming and surfing with her family. Adds the source: "Kate is always moving."

MEGHANN FAHY

The secret to Fahy's fantastic figure? Eggs and hot sauce! "Breakfast is my favorite. When I travel, I search for the best diner to check out. I'm an omelet girl. I put hot sauce on everything," said the White Lotus star, 32. That and her daily morning runs. "Heavy breathing and sweat give me clarity."

Eating Well in 2023

Check out the popular meal plans celebs swear by

FLEXITARIAN

Stars like Drew Barrymore and Meghan Markle have embraced the flexible approach in which they follow a mostly plant-based diet but allow for occasional meat or seafood.

LIGHT & CLEAN

A ton of A-listers including Dua Lipa and Tracee Ellis Ross stick to healthy, whole foods (think: tons of seasonal, organic fruits and vegetables and nothing too processed).

PALEO

Gwyneth Paltrow and Megan Fox praised the diet that's based on what hunter-gatherers likely ate during the Paleolithic Period (greens, nuts, berries, seeds and lean meats) and avoids sugar and grains.

PESCATARIAN

Jenna Ortega adopted the eating plan, which allows for fish but nixes meats, while filming Wednesday, adding salmon and tuna to her previously vegan diet. (Miley Cyrus is also a fan.)

MINI MEALS

Kerry Washington and Camila Cabello prefer four or five smaller meals throughout the day. "It isn't about dieting; it's about healthy lifestyle," Cabello's trainer, Jenna Hill, said.

HALLE BERRY

The superfit Oscar winner, 56, swears by the low-carb keto diet combined with intermittent fasting. She'll have a greens and beet smoothie for breakfast, tuna salad or steak with guacamole and mixed greens for lunch and white chicken chili for dinner. Snacks are prosciutto and arugula roll-ups or cream cheese-filled cherry tomatoes. "The keto lifestyle offers so many benefits," she's said, noting that it also helps her manage her diabetes.

A photograph of Florence Pugh. She is wearing a bright pink, sleeveless, knee-length dress and matching pink heels. She is standing on a balcony with a blue railing, smiling and looking towards the camera. There are pink flowers in the foreground.

FLORENCE PUGH

The Don't Worry Darling star, 26, and adrenaline junkie (she's shared photos on social media of her hiking and doing indoor mountain climbing) has said she loves nothing more than making fresh, home-cooked meals plucked from her own garden. "Genuinely, my therapeutic thing is chopping and cooking and stirring and tasting," gushed Pugh, who's whipped up healthy dishes like squash soup, stuffed lettuce leaves and garlic shrimp with zucchini noodles.

QUICK TIPS & TRICKS

Stars share their tried-and-true secrets for staying fit

Hydrate, Hydrate, Hydrate!

The importance of H₂O can't be overstated — that's why Gabrielle Union shoots for two liters a day. (She adds lemon to it for a burst of flavor!)

Limit Sweets

While preparing to play the title role in the upcoming film Barbie, Margot Robbie cut out excess sugar and white carbs, opting instead for salads and sweet potatoes.

Put in the Work

Jessie James Decker told Us she'd rather push herself in the gym than cut out foods she loves. "I work out and lift because I want to feel good and have energy," she said. "And I want to enjoy the foods I love, like pasta and bread and chocolate chip cookies!"

Pump Some Iron

Euphoria's Barbie Ferreira has said the idea that women bulk up from lifting weights is a myth: "It's not like you wake up one day and you're a muscle machine. I'm not one for those little two-pound dumbbells."

Switch It Up

"I love short focus bursts when working out; it keeps me from getting bored and really challenges my body," Jessica Alba told Us. "I love doing yoga, stretching and meditation."

Cut Yourself Off

"I eat with my kids every night at 5:15 P.M.," Kristin Cavallari told Us. "I find that I sleep better when I eat early like that. And I eat enough so that I'm not hungry before I go to bed."

Use Your Body & Mind

Hailey Bieber has said the benefits of boxing are twofold: "I found that remembering the combinations and learning how to move your body in boxing has been good for mental health."

Halve It

After losing 77 pounds in 2020, Rebel Wilson revealed she still indulges in her favorite foods like In N' Out Burger — she just eats less of it. "Nothing is forbidden," she's said. "I can go there; I just might eat half of what I used to eat before."

Tailgating Ribs

SERVES 6–8

INGREDIENTS

3 racks trimmed baby back ribs or spareribs
1 cup yellow mustard
12 oz Down Home Rub
½ cup apple juice
2 cups BBQ sauce of your choice

FOR DOWN HOME RUB

½ cup smoked paprika

¼ cup kosher salt
¼ cup cane sugar
¼ cup granulated garlic
2 tbsp mustard powder
2 tbsp coarse black pepper
1 tbsp nutmeg
1 tbsp cayenne
1 tsp cornstarch

INSTRUCTIONS

- 1 In a large bowl, combine all of the BBQ rub ingredients until uniform.
- 2 Remove the ribs from the package and pat both sides dry with a paper towel.
- 3 Remove the membrane from the back of the ribs. This can be done by using a paper towel and pulling upward or you can simply score the membrane with a knife and leave it on.
- 4 Apply a thin layer of the mustard on the front and back sides of the ribs.
- 5 Generously sprinkle the BBQ rub on both sides and along the edges of the ribs.
- 6 Place the seasoned ribs on the grill or smoker at 275 degrees for 3 hours. Check the color every hour. The ribs should turn a beautiful

- mahogany color. Use a spray bottle and lightly spritz water or apple juice on the ribs to speed up this process.
- 7 Remove the ribs and wrap tightly in foil. Open one end and pour 3 tbsp of apple juice into each foil pack and reseal it.
 - 8 Place the foiled ribs back on grill or smoker for 2 more hours or until the internal meat temperature reaches 206 degrees.
 - 9 Remove the ribs from foil and allow the steam to escape. Throw away the used foil and discard the liquid.
 - 10 Use a basting brush and cover the ribs with a light coating of BBQ sauce. Place back on grill or smoker for 15 minutes.
 - 11 Cut and enjoy!

GAME DAY GRUB

Pitmaster Erica Blaire Roby shares her go-to tailgating recipe with Us

➔ Attending an NFL game with your squad is fun, but it's the pre-kickoff party that really brings everyone together. "Tailgating is just as important as the football game," says BBQ Brawl champ Erica Blaire Roby. "We laugh, we cheer, sometimes cry — but we always come together as a football family and bond over delicious food." Her menu must-have? Ribs! "They're the perfect easy bite," she notes, "and a great way to make new friends!"

Ready To Roar

The cast of 1923 talks to Us about the highly anticipated Western drama

Taylor Sheridan's Yellowstone prequel 1923 (Sundays on Paramount+) introduces a new generation of the Dutton family and their peers. Helen Mirren, Darren Mann, Michelle Randolph, Aminah Nieves and Brian Geraghty dish on the series with Us.

Q: Helen, what qualities do you share with Cara?

HM I could never be a pioneer woman, I like my comfort too much. But I think because Taylor likes to write for the actor, as Jacob is constructed around [costar] Harrison [Ford] and his personal qualities, Cara is constructed around me. I would hope [we share] the sense of humor, the stoicism, the professionalism and love.

Q: What can you tease about 1923?

DM Action and cliff-hangers. 1883 was amazing, but we followed them on one journey up to Montana. In 1923, you're going to see so much more. This world is huge, and it's a fun crossroads getting to shoot in the '20s. It's an interesting point of time: [the end of] World War I, Spanish flu and Prohibition. It's not going to be a boring ride, that's for sure.

Q: How would you describe Jack and Elizabeth's romance?

MR It's so pure, innocent and passionate. They're very unapologetically in love with each other, which is really sweet because I think watching two people so in love, you can't help but be happy for them.

Q: Aminah, what do you admire about Teonna? What would you change?

AN I admire so much. I don't think I'd change anything about her [approach]. It's an innate, animalistic reaction because she's a part of the land. She doesn't do anything from a point of vengeance. It comes from deep love and compassion.

Q: How did the cast manage to keep things light on set?

BG [By] trying not to take it too seriously. The work's been done, learning how to ride horses and our actual jobs as they'd be in 1923, so you throw it away and have a good time. Harrison and Helen definitely provide that kind of atmosphere. It always comes from the top, and they're two great leaders.

Mayfair Witches is based on Anne Rice's popular trilogy.

Winter TV Preview

ANNE RICE'S MAYFAIR WITCHES The drama stars Alexandra Daddario as Rowan, a neurosurgeon equipped with unique skills she can't explain until she learns she hails from a line of New Orleans witches — and inherited a threatening force hell-bent on hunting her ancestors. (Jan. 8, AMC+)

THAT '90S SHOW Back to the basement! Kurtwood Smith and Debra Jo Rupp reprise their roles as Red and Kitty Forman in this That '70s Show sequel following their granddaughter Leia (Callie Haverda) and her group of friends in the summer of 1995. (Jan. 19, Netflix)

POKER FACE Billed as a 10-part mystery drama, Knives Out director Rian Johnson's TV debut follows human lie detector Charlie (Natasha Lyonne, who serves as EP) as she embarks on an adventure to solve crimes. (Jan. 26, Peacock)

NOT DEAD YET Based on Alexandra Potter's 2020 novel Confessions of a Forty-Something Fk Up, the comedy stars Gina Rodriguez as Nell, who accepts a job writing obituaries — and gets a new perspective on life. (Feb. 8, ABC)

ANIMAL CONTROL The workplace comedy stars Joel McHale as a former cop forced to take a new gig as an animal control officer. Under his guidance, his fellow employees — including Ravi Patel and Vella Lovell — hilariously navigate creatures of all kinds. (Feb. 16, Fox)

FOUND Shanola Hampton leads this new drama as Gabi, a former missing person who now oversees crisis management for a team of people searching for those who've gone AWOL. Mark-Paul Gosselaar also stars. (Feb. 19, NBC)

ON THIS WEEK

FRIDAY 12/30
WHITE NOISE

Noah Baumbach's adaptation of Don DeLillo's hit 1985 novel follows Jack (Adam Driver) and Babette (Greta Gerwig), whose family of six is upended following an accident that releases dangerous chemicals in the air. (Netflix)

THINGS YOU DON'T KNOW ABOUT ME

BY Tiffani Thiessen

The actress and Deliciousness host serves up some delectable facts for Us!

1. My favorite movie is E.T.

2. Fans usually say to me, "You look a lot like that girl on Saved by the Bell and Beverly Hills, 90210, or was it Baywatch?"

3. My favorite thing to cook is anything that will bring a smile to someone's face or make them want seconds.

4. My secret talent is that I can pack a car like Tetris.

5. My first car was a gold 280z T Top that I wasn't able to drive because it was a stick shift. Then I gave that car to my dad and bought a black Honda Prelude.

6. My most embarrassing on-set moment was on Beverly Hills, 90210. I needed to drive my car in a scene, and I wasn't able to because I didn't know stick shift.

7. The actress I looked up to the most growing up was Sally Field.

8. My most starstruck moments are between Prince and Michael Jackson.

9. My favorite item in my wardrobe right now is a Staud faux leather minidress.

10. I don't steal keepsakes from sets, but I know quite a few [people] who did.

11. My favorite room is my kitchen.

12. On Sunday afternoons, you'd find me either at my son's baseball game, our local skate park or meal prepping for the week. But if I'm really lucky, watching CBS News Sunday Morning, that I've recorded.

13. My favorite comfort meal is crunchy tacos.

14. It's a tie between Harry Connick Jr. and Rob Lowe for my celebrity crush growing up.

15. My alternate profession would be either a wine or cheese maker.

16. The best advice I've ever received is, "Listen to your intuition."

17. One place I'd like to go to is Portugal — for the food, the landscape and the people.

18. I've always had an insecurity with my hands — much more when I was younger, but it's still not a favorite part of my body.

19. My guilty pleasure reality show is Someone Feed Phil.

20. I had always wanted to be in a James Bond film and got very close to one years ago, but it didn't go my way.

21. One makeup item I can't live without is Thrive mascara.

22. My favorite book is The Boy, the Mole, the Fox and the Horse by Charlie Mackesy.

23. My favorite gift from one of my kids was an amazing canvas my daughter painted for me for Mother's Day when she was about 7 years old.

24. I always travel with magazines. It's the only time I get to read them.

25. My character Elizabeth Burke on White Collar resonated with me the most out of all of my projects. It was a time in my life when my character reflected a lot of my own real characteristics.
